Brian Peacock Award for the Dairy Technologist of the Year

The award is made in recognition of the work of Brian Peacock who was an active and respected leader of the dairy industry for many years and a member of the Society for over 50 years. Brian was a member of Council and had a real passion and drive to see both the Society and industry succeed, despite some trying times. It is presented annually to the member who, in the opinion of the awarding committee, has performed outstanding work as a dairy technologist during the previous 12 months. This could be in the form of project work, problem-solving, dedication to the industry or similar.

1. Nominations for the award should be in the form of a proposal of 200 - 300 words, outlining the work carried out and should be made by a colleague or manager.
2. The nomination should be emailed to execdirector@sdt.org by May 24th 2024.
3. A committee of Council members will consider all applications and select a winner.
4. The award will be presented at the annual dinner in July (or other suitable occasion).
5. The award is a perpetual shield trophy, which shall be engraved with the year and recipient's name.
